This roundtable will focus on the near-term and longer-range implications of the growing trade tensions between the US and China. Panelists will cover economic, political, business, and investment considerations both leading up to this year's mid-term election and longer-term strategic planning for the changing Sino-American relationship. After brief introductory remarks, the panel will respond to moderated and audience Q&A. The esteemed panel includes:

- Coors Arthur, Arthur Dunavant Investments, Principal
- Ralph Carter, FedEx Express, VP of International Regulatory Affairs
- Ray C. Dillon, Sun Paper dba Sun Bio, US Consultant
- Michael Drury, McVean Trading, Chief Economist
- John Gurney, First Tennessee Bank, Senior VP
